- Perform exportation via different options
- Organize and manage your research Using My Research

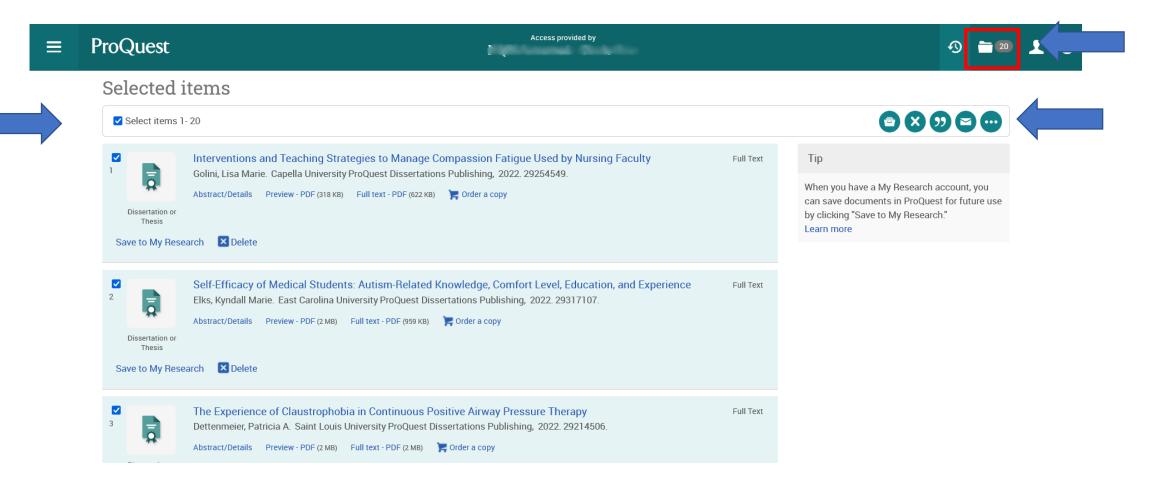

Saving Records

Part of Clarivate

- Save records by selecting them from the Results page and then...
 - Click the Save icon OR
 - View the Selected Items Folder

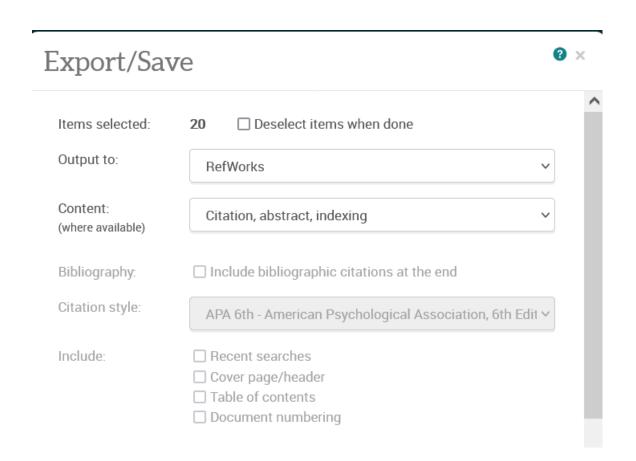

Selected Items

Exporting to RefWorks

- A direct export is available from ProQuest to RefWorks (both Legacy RefWorks and New RefWorks)
- Access to RefWorks is provided by your organization and is separate from ProQuest access
- Use the Save option and then select RefWorks

Exportation Options--Anonymous Session Limits

When the user is not logged in to his/her My Research Account:

- Limited to exporting 500 citation/A&I records in a session
- Limited to exporting 100 full-text documents per session
- Attempts to exceed these limits prompts users to sign into My research profile or create one
- Limited to 1,000 documents in any single action

Exportation Options—Identified Users Session Limits

When the user is logged into My Research Account:

• Full Text & Citation/A&I records limited to 20,000 per session

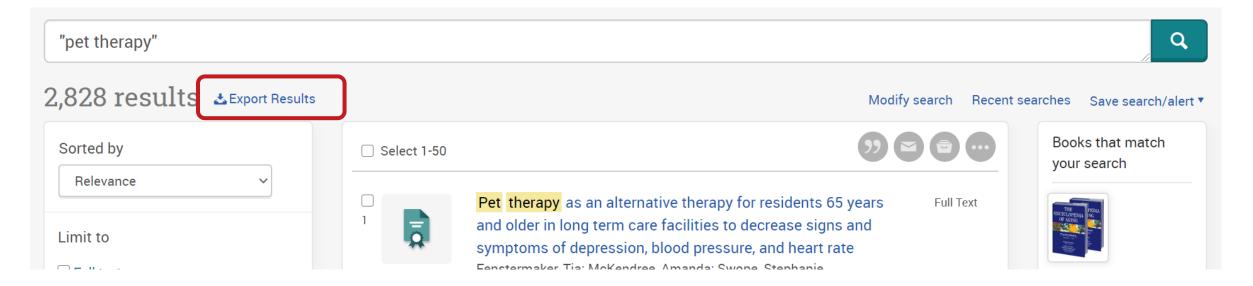

Attempts to exceed prompt them to save to My Research

• Limited to 1,000 documents in any single action

Search Results Export

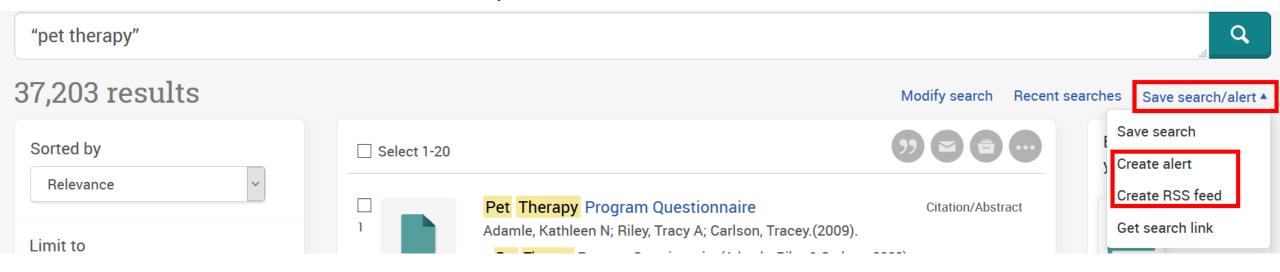

If an institution enables the 'Search Results Export' option, then a user logged into My Research can export up to 10,000 records (can be activated from PAM (ProQuest Admin Module) by admin).
